

The first railway in India was inaugurated more than 160 years ago. Since then, the railway network has grown to be among the largest in the world, running more than 12000 passenger trains per day ferrying close to 25 million passengers daily.

Train journeys have always intrigued the travelers. Journeys traversing through varying terrains, offering glimpses of the landscapes, have captured the fancy of many.

Maharajas' Express is an attempt to recreate the journeys undertaken by Indian Royalty and British aristocracy in the luxury of their private saloons, tended by butlers enjoying the cuisines from royal kitchens.
